FOWLERTON RANCH

La Salle County, Texas

225± acres

Just northwest of Fowlerton, in La Salle County, lies this 225 acre ranch. In the heart of South Texas brush country, the ranch offers easy access throughout via numerous roads and senderos winding through native guajillo, blackbrush, and mesquite. Multiple fields provide opportunity for food plots or grazing. Several stock ponds provide reliable, year-round water for game and livestock alike. Additionally, 1 water well supplies water troughs around the ranch. Cross fencing, pens, and pastures are setup for cattle operations. Wildlife species include White-tailed Deer, Turkey, Quail, Dove, and Feral Hogs. And for all its seclusion, it's easy to reach—about an hour and a half south of San Antonio, with newly paved county road access right to the gate, and Cotulla, Tilden, and I-35 all an easy drive away.
